

A High Class Of Washroom Hygiene for Harvey Nichols

What services does Cannon Hygiene provide to Harvey Nichols?

Harvey Nichols is an international lifestyle luxury store which offers many of the world's prestigious brands. At Harvey Nichols in Manchester, Cannon Hygiene is proud to be the supplier of choice for a range of washroom, feminine hygiene and infant care products.

What special requirements did the client have?

As well as demanding the highest quality products and services for its customers, a top priority for the client was the reduction of its carbon footprint and costs through energy saving. Cannon Hygiene helped to meet this requirement by installing the Cannon Airjet on site. The Cannon Airjet promises cost savings of up to 90% over traditional warm air hand dryers.

How does Cannon Hygiene help promote the Harvey Nichols brand?

Logo mats supplied by Cannon Hygiene are one of the first things on display when customers walk into Harvey Nichols in Manchester. These appear around the store and not only control dirt and moisture levels but also serve to enhance the client's brand.

What is the relationship between Cannon Hygiene and this customer?

"We have an excellent relationship with our colleagues at Harvey Nichols," says hygiene consultant Kathy Cully. "This is based on trust that we will deliver what we promise and we will try and solve any problems which arise quickly and efficiently."

Like Harvey Nichols, Cannon Hygiene prides itself in offering first class products and services and on its commitment to protecting the environment and helping clients reduce their carbon footprint. For customers who need to deliver value for money, there is no question of compromising quality in preference of a reduced or inferior product. Instead, Cannon Hygiene's dedicated team continually manages product improvement and looks for innovations to support product development.
